Gary Bettman
Commissioner
National Hockey League
1251 Avenue of the Americas, 47th Floor
New York, NY 10020-1104

Dear Commissioner Bettman:

I write to you today to ask that, like the National Football League (NFL), you commence a full review of all contracts between National Hockey League (NHL) clubs and the Department of Defense (DOD) to determine if taxpayer funds were used to pay for patriotic displays or other activities honoring the troops at NHL games.

In our joint oversight report Tackling Paid Patriotism, Senator Flake and I detailed 15 contracts executed between NHL clubs and the DOD between 2012 and 2015 that may have contained some form of paid patriotism.^{1,2} For example, an FY 2013 contract shows that the Massachusetts Army National Guard paid the Boston Bruins to perform the national anthem, color guard and reenlistment ceremonies, as well as the opportunity to recognize soldiers during home games. Such examples are a clear misuse of taxpayer dollars.

While I recognize the right of the NHL and its clubs to be paid for legitimate marketing and advertising activities, it seems unreasonable to expect American taxpayers to foot the bill in cases where a club or the league wishes to engage in activities that give the appearance of honoring our service members or highlighting the relationship between the NHL, its clubs, and the military. Any organization with a genuine interest in honoring the troops, and deriving public credit as a result, should do so at its own expense and not at that of the American taxpayer. I urge you to take steps necessary to ensure that these paid patriotism activities do not continue.

Like the NFL, you should consider returning this money or making a donation to the charitable organization of your choice that benefits our service members and veterans in an amount equal or greater to that paid to the clubs by the DOD since 2012 for any activity intended to honor service members. I know that the NHL and its teams undertake numerous charitable activities already, but I believe that would be a fitting gesture, given the highly questionable nature of some of the activities that have occurred.

I thank you for your attention to this matter, and look forward to your response.

Sincerely,
